Federal law prohibits Icon Process Controls systems from receiving any product from a customer, or end user, which has been installed into a system unless, if applicable, it is accompanied by a Material Safety Data Sheet or certification of the process fluid. Please thoroughly wash all products to be returned. Any information not completed above may result in a delay of analysis. In the exclusion of providing the relevant Material Safety Data Sheets and/or certifications, as well as washing of the returned product, there may be a denial of analysis.
